

P2P Synergy Meeting I Biofermentation & Bioprocess Engineering

23 November 2017 | Time: 3:30 pm . 4.30 pm
Venue: VC Meeting Room, Venture Center

This meeting is to informally bring together incubatees working in this domain to learn from each other, get tips and pointers, connects, referrals etc. We intend to hold periodic meetings and in future, invite experts and mentors in the field (who are not entrepreneurs) who can provide focused perspectives and help to explore synergies.

Moderator of the session: Dr Priya Nagaraj

Priya Nagaraj is Bioincubation Manager at Ventre Center. Priya holds a Ph.D. in Biology from University of Virginia, USA. She worked with Advinus Therapeutics Ltd, a pharmaceutical drug discovery company for over 5 years. She has research experience in biochemistry, cell biology, developmental biology, molecular biology and drug discovery.

About Peer-to-peer talks

Peer-to-peer talks are sessions offering practical tips and pointers from fellow entrepreneurs who are experts on a specific topic or have cracked+ or excelled in a certain aspect of the entrepreneurial journey. These sessions provide an opportunity to network and interact with fellow incubatees. These sessions can also be used to obtain important leads and referrals.
