

Social Innovation Lecture Series presents 12th talk on

Building a team for a social enterprise

Thursday, 16 November 2017 | Time: 3.30 pm -5.30 pm

(Registration and networking tea @ 3.30 pm)

Venue: Lecture Theatre, Venture Center, 100 NCL Innovation Park

Mr. Advait Kurlekar
CEO at Upohan Management Consultants Pvt. Ltd.

Abstract of the talk

Advait will touch upon what is team building and its need, what are the aspects of running a team successfully, various challenges faced by organisations. He will also try to differentiate how is team building for a social enterprise different from that for a corporate organization and what are the pertinent issues being faced by social enterprises in terms of building the best-fit teams

Speakers brief Bio

Advait Kurlekar has over 23 years of experience in industry and management consulting, having worked in leading organizations like Tata Motors, AF Ferguson, Pricewaterhouse, Coopers and Cedar Consulting. Prior to founding Upohan, he was heading KP Consulting as part of the Kirtane & Pandit Group based in Pune. Advait has expertise in the areas of Business Strategy, Balanced Scorecard and HR consulting. He has directed over 350 development projects for a variety of clients in India and abroad. Advait has led consulting projects across a range of sectors including engineering, automotive, retail, pharmaceuticals, consumer goods, hospitality, media and advertising, etc. He has handled assignments in Singapore, Hong Kong, Middle East, West Asia, South Africa, North Africa, UK, France and Germany. He is regularly invited to speak at national and international business conferences. Advait is a visiting faculty at SP Jain Global Center of Management and Great Lakes, Chennai. He is also a charter member of TIE's Pune chapter and has done an Advanced Management Program from the Wharton Business School..

Register here: <http://bit.ly/2vwB0Fc>